ICE CREAM, SODA WATER, &c. ICE CREAM.

My Ice Cream Manufactory, one of the largest in Virginia, still continues to supply private customers, Sunday schools, excursions, pienics, fairs, festivals and associations, as well as the trade, with that SUPERIOR CREAM that has made a name in this community, and is known everywhere as BRENGLE'S ICE CREAM. everywhere as BRENGLE'S ICE CREAT. I could easily reduce its price by lowering its quality, but good cream, of fresh, pure, wholesome ingredients, cannot be furnished at a less price than I serve it. Of course, I could "grade my cream by the price," but my cream would lose the good name that years of fair dealing have won for it. I ask that persons abroad ordering "Brengle's Cream" from third parties will assure themselves that the cream sent is certainly sure themselves that the cream sent is certainly from my establishment. I warrant my cream, and do not wish that inferior cream, sent out as mine, may injure its reputation. It is my aim to furnish the BEST CREAM IN AMERICA, and my customers are satisfied that I do so.

VEGETINE IS RECOMMENDED BY ALL PHY.

Valley Stream, Queens Co., Long Island, N.Y. Mr. H. R. Stevens: Dear Sir-I take the pleasure of writing you a small certificate concerning Vegetine prepared by you. I have been a sufferer with the Dyspepsia for over forty years, and have had the Chronic Diarrhea for six months, and have tried most everything; was given up to die, and did not expect to live from day to day, and no physician could touch my case. I saw your Vegetine recommended to cure Dyspepsia. I commenced using it, and I continued doing so, and am now a well woman and restored to perfect health All who are afflicted with this terrible disease I would kindly recommend to try it for the bennilt of their health, and it is excellent as a bennit of the bond purifier.

By Dr. T. B. Forbes, M. D., for MRS. WM, H. FORBES. VEGETINE.-When the blood becomes lifeless and stagnant, either from change of weather or of climate, want of exercise, irregular diet, or from any other cause, the Vegetine will renew the blood, carry off the putrid humors, cleanse the stomach, regulate the bowels, and impart a tone of vigor to the whole body.

VEGETINE FOR CANCERS AND CANCEROUS HUMORS.

[The Doctor's certificate.—Read it]
Ashley, Washington, Co., Ill., Jan. 14, 1873.

H. R. Slevens, esq.
Dear Sir—This is certify that I have been suffering from a Rose Cancer on my right breast, which grew very rapidly, and all my friends had given me up to die, when I heard of your medicine, Vegetine, recommended for Cancer and Cancerous Humors. I commenced to take it, and soon found myself beginning to feel better; my health and spirits both felt the benign interest which it exerted and in a few months fluence which it exerted, and in a few months from the time I commenced the use of the Vegetine, the Cancer came out almost bodily.
CARRIE DEFORREST.

I certify that I am personally acquainted with Mrs. DeForrest, and consider hear one of our very best women Dr. S. H. FLOWERS.

All diseases of the blood—If Vogetine will relieve pain, cleanse, purify and cure such diseases, restoring the patient to perfect health after trying different physicians, many remedies, suffering for years, is it not conclusive proof, if you are a sufferer, you can be cured? Why is this medicine performing such great cures? It works in the blood, in the circulating fluid. It can truly be called the Great Blood Purifier. The great source of disease originates in the blood; and no medicine that does not act directly upon it, to purify and renovate, has any just claim.

A Romance of Debt. St. Louis furnishes a romanco in real life, with a moral in it for improunious gentlemen. At one of the hotels there, a second class hotel, but with a fair patronage and good annual profit, boarded some time ago a gentleman to whom with the hard times had come hard luck. Engaged in a fluctuating business, he had struggled on after the panie of 1873, and after a time failed entirely. The failure was com-plete; it was hard to gain a foothold again, and,

although a single man, he found it difficult to make a livelihood. At the time when he began boarding at the hotel mentioned it was conducted by a widow, the former proprietor having died and left everything to his wife. The widow proved equal to the task imposed upon her, managing the affairs of the hotel energetically, exhibiting the possession of decided business tact, and soon becoming the terror of all delinquent boarders. Among this class was the gentleman out of business. Do what he could, the door of all profitable enterprise seemed barred to him, and he found himself unable to meet the monthly bill, accumulating with painful regularity, for his broad and butter.

The landlady could not understand how any man should be penniless, and informed him, with the pointedness of which only a vexed woman is capable, that if this bill was not paid by a certain fixed time he must leave the house, leaving at the same time his few personal ef fects as part liquidation of the debt. The poor fellow was in despair. There had been two or it, to purify and renovate, has any just claim three suicides in the city within a day or two and his thoughts involuntary reverted to the pistol or the noose as affording him the easies

> He had a little too much pluck, though, for such a resource, and in his desperation seized upon an idea which would never have occurred to him, a rather fastidious man, under other oreumstates. Why not try to soften the heart of the widowed landlady by a little sentiment? He dressed himself as best he could from a scanty wardrobe, visited the grim widow and promised to settle up soon, contrived to mollify and then to please her, and, in the course of a week, became an ardent

He was a good-looking fellow; the landlady had, with all her business vim, a weak spot in her heart, and she finally surrendered at discretion. They were married, and the husband became a sort of confidential clock and assistant manager in the concern. So the honeymoon passed, when there came suddenly still another phase to the situation. The middle aged bride sickened, and almost before the bridegroom had settled quietly down to the fact that he was a married man, he had become a widower. All the property was left to him, and he had become sufficiently familiar with the business to venture to carry on the hotel. He is doing it now, successfully. He may be seen any day, the dignified landlord and owner of all where he was so recently troub'el about his board bill, and possibly wondering occasionally, after men's forgetful manner, how it is that some of his guests are hard up and cannot settle. He has passed from one extreme to the other, and has furnished an example for unfortunate single gentlemen. Still, deliberative in his ways as he now is, it must sometimes be a little hard for him to recognize himself.

his will that all his business and the real estate

directly connected with it should be inherited by Judge Hilton, who had been his confidential adviser for several years. All his other real estate be bequeathed to his wife. The actual value of the business and of the real property connected with it was not publicly known then nor has it been made known since. The whole was estimated as thirty millions, and I am inclined to think that figure was not much out of the way. It included the wholesale house at Chambers street, the retail house at Tenth street and some twenty mills engaged in manu-facturing for the firm. All the hotel property was outside of the business, and, together with a number of houses in different parts of the city, went to Mrs. Stewart. Those who speak of decline say that the business part of the estate is worth $5,000,000 less to day than at Stewart's death, and some of them predict that five years more will produce bankruptcy. Such predictions, however, are sometimes mera folly and this may be one of that sort. The estimated value of the entire real estate in this city in 1875 was $10,000,000. This included the two stores, which were supposed to be worth $3,000,000. The up town store is built on leased ground, and the fee is therefore not so valuable as might be supposed. Deducting the value of the stores, which became the property of Hilton, the real estate be queathed to Mrs. Stewart was worth $7,000, 000 a year before her husband's death. As much of this property is situated in parts of the city which are steadily going backward, such as Bleeker street, Amity street, Ninth street, Prince street, and so on, its value has undergone a serious decline since that time. Good judges say that at least $2,000,000 must be taken off for depreciation. They speak in the same way of the property at Hempstead, and with probably as much reason. There is no doubt that the whole estate has shrunk several millions since Stewart's death, but then it is not by any means certain that the same thing would not have happened if Mr. Stewart were still alive. Some very shrewd business men have become bankrupts in the past three years. -N. Y. Cor. Hartford Times.
